1. BACKGROUND

1.1. Dacorum Borough Council is responsible for the issue of six types of animal welfare licence, namely:

- a) Animal boarding establishment licences (businesses accommodating dogs or cats – e.g. kennels, catteries, home boarders, pet daycare)
- b) Dangerous wild animal licences (keeping prescribed exotic animals)
- c) Dog breeding establishment licences (commercial breeding of dogs)
- d) Pet shop licences (any premises retailing animals to be kept as pets)
- e) Riding establishment licences (premises providing horses, ponies, etc, for riding)
- f) Zoo licences (premises exhibiting non-domesticated animals which are open to the public)

1.2. Additional animal licence types, including animal movement orders and performing animal registrations, are issued by the County Council.

1.3. The legislation governing all of these licence types gives licensing authorities wide discretion on the matters they may consider prior to issuing a licence, although issues relating to the welfare of the animals and the protection of the public must take primacy.

1.4. The Council currently has basic application forms¹ available for each of its licences except zoos, which in some cases ask for little more than the address of the premises and the name of the proprietor. Any additional information required to determine the application is then gathered either by the licensing enforcement officer or the veterinary surgeon appointed by the Council, during the inspection of the premises. In turn, this means that inspections then take considerably longer than if this information did not have to be gathered, increasing the cost of those inspections.

- 1.5. The Council also subscribes to the Government's GOV.UK Licensing online application system, which provides more comprehensive e-forms for animal boarding establishment, pet shops, riding establishment and zoo licences, although these are infrequently used.
- 1.6. The lack of detail in the current animal licence application forms was recently identified as an area for improvement by the Council's Internal Auditor during a recent audit of the Licensing service, and the adoption of new, more comprehensive forms will serve to satisfy a recommendation made by the Auditor.

2. PROPOSAL

- 2.1. It is now proposed to introduce more comprehensive application forms for five of the six types of licence issued by the Council, so that most of the required information is gathered at the time of application, rather than during the pre-licensing inspection. This should encourage a more efficient approach to the processing of these application types, and reduce the costs incurred by the Council.
- 2.2. Revised application forms are attached at Annexes A-E.
- 2.3. As there are currently no zoos within Dacorum and no suggestion that one will be opening in the near future, it is not intended to develop a local zoo licence application form at this time. The GOV.UK e-form, which was developed in conjunction with DEFRA, is available should an operator wish to apply for a licence of this type.
- 2.4. In addition to the application form itself, it is also intended to introduce a new requirement for each type of licence requiring the submission of a scale plan of the premises. This will again allow officers to better assess the suitability of the premises, and to identify any areas requiring closer attention, prior to the inspection taking place. The precise requirements for each type of plan are detailed within the guidance notes attached to each application form.

3. RECOMMENDATIONS

- 3.1. To adopt, with effect from 1 November 2015, as the Council's standard format for animal licence applications:
 - a) For animal boarding establishment licences under section 1 of the Animal Boarding Establishments Act 1963, the form at Annex A;
 - b) For pet shop licences under section 1 of the Pet Animals Act 1951, the form at Annex B;
 - c) For riding establishment licences under section 1 of the Riding Establishments Act 1964, the form at Annex C;

- d) For dog breeding establishment licences under section 1 of the Breeding of Dogs Act 1973, the form at Annex D;
- e) For dangerous wild animal licences under section 1 of the Dangerous Wild Animals Act 1976, the form at Annex E; and to require all information requested therein to be provided with each application made for a licence.

Guidance notes for applicants

Under the Animal Boarding Establishments Act 1963, businesses which provide accommodation for dogs and cats belonging to other people must be licensed by the applicable local council. Premises operated by these businesses are known as animal boarding establishments.

The Act provides exemptions for businesses where the accommodation is ancillary to an unrelated primary activity (for example, veterinary surgeries accommodating animals which are receiving treatment).

The Act does not stipulate any time periods for the provision of accommodation, and therefore, in the Council's opinion, businesses providing day-time pet accommodation (sometimes known as 'dog day care', 'cat crèches' or similar) will require licences in the same way as traditional kennels and catteries which provide overnight accommodation. Businesses providing accommodation in a domestic setting (known as 'home boarding') will also require licences.

1. The Act requires that licences are issued in respect of calendar years, and that they expire on 31st December each year. If you are applying for a new licence part way through a calendar year, you may choose whether you wish the licence to have effect until the end of the current calendar year (in which case it will be valid for less than 12 months), or for the next calendar year (so that it runs for 12 months from 1st January, but will not have effect in the current year). Our application fees are set based on the work involved in issuing a licence, and will not be reduced for licences which will be valid for less than 12 months.
2. Renewed licences will be valid from 1st January to 31st December in the next calendar year.
3. Please state the maximum number of animals to be accommodated in each category. This number should only include animals being accommodated in the course of the boarding business – you will be asked later about any animals which are ordinarily resident at the premises.
4. Should you need additional space to complete your response to these questions, please continue on a blank page, indicating clearly which question you are responding to. We may also accept copies of documents (e.g. operational manuals) in place of individual responses to these questions, providing that they cover all required matters.
5. Where animals are to be accommodated within a domestic environment, the licensing authority will not usually grant a licence for a greater number of animals (including resident animals) than there are rooms on the ground floor of the property. This is so that, if the need arises (e.g. in the event of an attack incident, or an outbreak of a transmittable illness), all animals can be isolated in separate rooms. A room is considered to be a fully enclosed internal structure which is safe and suitable for containing an animal, with a door that can be closed – open plan conjoined rooms (e.g. lounge/diners) will be counted as one room. Rooms may include lounges, reception rooms, dining rooms, kitchens, bedrooms BUT NOT hallways (which will typically be needed to access the other rooms) nor pantries, storage rooms or utility rooms (unless it can be demonstrated that these are large enough to safely accommodate an animal).
6. The licensing authority strongly recommends that an appropriate level of public liability insurance is held by every animal boarding business. Where the business employs other persons, employer's liability insurance should also be held. As every business is different we do not consider it appropriate to specify minimum coverage levels, which should be discussed with a suitable insurance adviser.

Scale plan requirements

If you are applying for a new licence, or have made significant changes to the layout of the premises since your last licence was granted, we will require you to provide a scale plan, which clearly shows the (internal) layout of your premises.

Plans may be drawn to any appropriate scale (please indicate what scale you have used). There is no requirement to have plans professionally drawn – we will accept any reasonable plan, which shows all areas of your premises which will be used in the course of the boarding business, including animal accommodation, food preparation areas, isolation facilities and exercise areas, and which includes, as a minimum:

- All internal and external walls or fences, and the boundary of your premises
- Access and egress points to and from the premises
- Location of emergency escape routes from the premises (if different to above)
- Areas used for accommodating animals (including any permanent enclosures, structures or pens)
- Areas used for exercising animals (including any permanent enclosures, structures or pens)
- Areas used for storage/preparation of food for animals
- Location of fire detection/safety equipment
- Location of any medical equipment/isolation facility
- Location of any heating/ventilation sources

Home boarders – please note that we will only require a plan showing the ground floor of your premises, we do not require other floors to be shown as we will not typically licence these.

If you have previously submitted a scale plan of your premises (i.e. if you are applying to renew an existing licence), and no changes have been made to the layout or structure of the premises since your licence was granted, it is not necessary to submit a further plan with this application.

Guidance notes for applicants

Under the Pet Animals Act 1951, businesses which sell animals to be kept as pets must be licensed by the applicable local council. Premises operated by these businesses are known as pet shops, and may include private dwellings.

The Act provides exemptions for selling pedigree animals bred by the seller, or the occasional sale of offspring of a pet animal kept by that person.

1. The Act requires that licences are issued in respect of calendar years, and that they expire on 31st December each year. If you are applying for a new licence part way through a calendar year, you may choose whether you wish the licence to have effect until the end of the current calendar year (in which case it will be valid for less than 12 months), or for the next calendar year (so that it runs for 12 months from 1st January, but will not have effect in the current year). Our application fees are set based on the work involved in issuing a licence, and will not be reduced for licences which will be valid for less than 12 months.
2. Renewed licences will be valid from 1st January to 31st December in the next calendar year.
3. For each type of animal which you intend to stock, please state the maximum number of animals to be stocked at any time, the minimum age at which animals of that type will be sold, and describe the accommodation in which animals of that type will be kept. Where multiple animal types will be accommodated together in a single enclosure, please indicate which animal types which be accommodated together. If you need further space to complete your responses in this section, please continue on additional, blank pages.
4. Should you need additional space to complete your response to these questions, please continue on a blank page, indicating clearly which question you are responding to. We may also accept copies of documents (e.g. operational manuals) in place of individual responses to these questions, providing that they cover all required matters.
5. The licensing authority strongly recommends that an appropriate level of public liability insurance is held by every pet shop. Where the business employs other persons, employer's liability insurance should also be held. As every business is different we do not consider it appropriate to specify minimum coverage levels, which should be discussed with a suitable insurance adviser.

Scale plan requirements

If you are applying for a new licence, or have made significant changes to the layout of the premises since your last licence was granted, we will require you to provide a scale plan, which clearly shows the (internal) layout of your premises.

Plans may be drawn to any appropriate scale (please indicate what scale you have used). There is no requirement to have plans professionally drawn – we will accept any reasonable plan, which shows all areas of your premises which will be used in the course of the business, which includes, as a minimum:

- All internal and external walls or fences, and the boundary of your premises
- Access and egress points to and from the premises
- Location of emergency escape routes from the premises (if different to above)
- Areas used for accommodating animals (including any permanent enclosures, structures or pens)
- Areas used for exercising animals (including any permanent enclosures, structures or pens)
- Areas used for storage/preparation of food for animals
- Location of fire detection/safety equipment
- Location of any medical equipment/isolation facility
- Location of any heating/ventilation sources

If you have previously submitted a scale plan of your premises (i.e. if you are applying to renew an existing licence), and no changes have been made to the layout or structure of the premises since your licence was granted, it is not necessary to submit a further plan with this application.

Guidance notes for applicants

Under the Riding Establishments Act 1964, businesses which keep horses for the purposes of letting them out on hire for riding, or using them in the provision of riding instruction must be licensed by the applicable local council. Premises operated by these businesses are known as riding establishments.

The Act provides exemptions for businesses operating at premises managed by the Ministry of Defence, nor for businesses providing horses solely for police purposes or run by the Zoological Society of London or the Royal Zoological Society of Scotland.

Riding schools and businesses hiring horses for riding will therefore require licences. However, livery stables, which provide accommodation for horses owned by other people but which do not provide horses for hire or tuition, will not require licences.

1. All licences will be issued for a period of 12 months, at the end of which they must be renewed if it is intended to continue operating a riding establishment. In some cases, such as where an issue requiring rectification is identified during an inspection, we may decide to issue a provisional licence for a shorter period, followed by a full licence for the remaining period after the issue has been adequately rectified.
2. Please state the maximum number of horses which are to be kept at the riding establishment, including any horses which you intend to procure but have not yet done so. Details of all horses kept should be given in Annex A. Horses belonging to other people which are stabled at the premises but are not hired out for riding nor used for riding instruction need not be included in the total nor Annex A.
3. Should you need additional space to complete your response to these questions, please continue on a blank page, indicating clearly which question you are responding to. We may also accept copies of documents (e.g. operational manuals) in place of individual responses to these questions, providing that they cover all required matters.
4. The licensing authority strongly recommends that an appropriate level of public liability insurance is held by every animal boarding business. Where the business employs other persons, employer's liability insurance should also be held. As every business is different we do not consider it appropriate to specify minimum coverage levels, which should be discussed with a suitable insurance adviser.

Scale plan requirements

If you are applying for a new licence, or have made significant changes to the layout of the premises since your last licence was granted, we will require you to provide a scale plan, which clearly shows the internal and external layout of your premises and applicable buildings or structures.

Plans may be drawn to any appropriate scale (please indicate what scale you have used). There is no requirement to have plans professionally drawn – we will accept any reasonable plan, which shows all areas of your premises which will be used in the course of the riding establishment business, including animal accommodation, riding arenas or paddocks, medical facilities and exercise areas, and which includes, as a minimum:

- All internal and external walls or fences, and the boundary of your premises
- Access and egress points to and from the premises
- Location of emergency escape routes from the premises (if different to above)
- Areas used for accommodating animals (including any stables, boxes, paddocks or similar)
- Enclosed areas used for exercising animals (including any permanent arenas or paddocks)
- Areas used for storage of food for animals, saddlery and tack, and other equipment
- Location of fire detection/safety equipment
- Location of any first aid equipment/isolation facility
- Location of any heating/ventilation sources

If you have previously submitted a scale plan of your premises (i.e. if you are applying to renew an existing licence), and no changes have been made to the layout or structure of the premises since your licence was granted, it is not necessary to submit a further plan with this application.
